Holland Electronics RG11 SLCU-11 series compression connection is ideal for our RG11 bulk trunk cable. This product utilizes an advanced pin capture mechanism, making it an ideal choice for professional RG-11 terminations. The SLCU-11 features a sliding pin design that avoids blind mating and ensures positive center conductor insertion to provide the most reliable termination available.

The patented dual compression point technology guarantees long-term sealing and reduces the amount of insertion force required. The improved sealing and all-metal construction ensure connector reliability even in the most adverse environments.
